New Options for Our On-Call Customers

In an effort to continually improve our "Extreme Customer Service" Infoshred has added a Bin Swap/Pick Up request button to our website. The new button, located in the top right hand corner of our homepage, allows our On-Call customers to request service via the web.

Special Shredding of Kevlar for Local Police Department

A local police department came to us with a special request. They asked if we could test shred a Kevlar panel for them. These before and after photos show we can definitely shred Kevlar. We encourage any police departments or security services that have any specialty shredding need, including used uniform destruction to contact us.

Heads Up to our Rhode Island Customers! New Legislation Taking Effect June 2016

The State of RI General Assembly passed the new Rhode Island Identity Theft Protection Act of 2015. All persons, state agencies and municipal agencies must protect the personal information about a Rhode Island resident that they store, collect, process, maintain, acquire, use, own or license. Frank's Corner

Office Mascot and Supplemental Security Officer Frank is pleased to announce the addition of Junior Officer, Delilah to his staff. However as a middle-aged, male bulldog, Frank has expressed concern that by being part of a Woman-Owned business he is at risk of being climbed over on the canine corporate ladder.

Infoshred has Teamed Up with DataBank To Add Document Scanning & Automation Services

We are excited to announce that Infoshred has formed a strategic alliance with DataBank to provide our customers with one source for document scanning, data automation, secure document storage and document destruction services.

With this alliance we are teaming up with a company known nationally for its strength in providing document scanning and data automation. This partnership offers our customers a strong solution for complete document automation and security.

DataBank also sees the alliance as a way to offer complete document services. According to Ken Bozler, Sr. VP DataBank East, "Infoshred's expertise in secure document destruction and document storage facility offers ideal complementary services to our customers."

Please contact us to find out more about this new service.

At Infoshred, we pride ourselves on giving back to the community through various local organizations.

Helping Hands

Infoshred owner Stacey DiPiazza is honored that she and her eldest daughter were selected to appear in an ad for The Hartford Foundation for Public Giving.

The Foundation is observing their 90th anniversary this year. One of their goals is to celebrate and encourage all forms of philanthropy, which has generally been defined as "love of humankind." They requested donors help publicize their ad campaign "Words to Give By," which underscores the fact that there are many types of philanthropists throughout our region.

This campaign enables everyone to see a place for themselves to be philanthropists.
